

Title: Whose Birthday, is it?

TYPE: IGAA – Inspired by Uncle Joe 10/5/2019

Players: 2-6

Ages: 7 and up

Deck: Beginner

Object: Try to make the appointment with the most points. Your birth month!

BIRTHDAY APPOINTMENT. Keep the Season/Month cards until you get a card that will help you get an appointment. Only swap out a Season/Month card for your Birth month. This way you can build on it collecting the Day and Time for that season. Getting someone else Birth month appointment can prevent you from getting your Birthday appointment so choice wisely!

Play: For each round deal out 3 cards to each player and maintain only 3 cards at all times. Place 1 card face up next to the draw deck. Each player draws from the top of the draw deck or from the top of the discard pile then discards a card. If another player needs the top card from the discard pile they say “I want it” and the player closest to the current player clockwise gets to pick up the discard card and replaces it with a card from their hand and then lose a turn unless they were next in line to get the card. That player has the first option. They can before their next turn say “I want it” again but they will lose 2 turns. Player should be careful not to say “I want it” too many times unless it is a card that will make their Birthday appointment. Round ends when someone either makes their Birthday Appointment or deck is depleted. Everyone scores points based on the appointment they made. If a player makes their appointment from getting a card out of turn, they must wait the number of times, they got a card out of turn ensuring they lose their turn(s) unless already satisfied. Then on their next turn they can declare the appointment. The discard pile does not get turned over so watch the cards that are discarded carefully. If at the end of the deck no one declares their Birthday appointment score for each player based on what; if any; points they have. Game is 21 points and the following appointments can be made.
